Mrs. Carrie Nation of Medicine Lodge, Mrs. Levey Whitcomb and Mrs. Julia Evans of this city occupy cells in the county jail, having been arrested upon the charge of malicious destruction of property, which occurred yesterday afternoon in the saloons of James Burns at 415 East Douglas avenue, and Herrig & Taylor, at 431 East Douglas avenue. A warrant is in the hands of City Marshal Schell for the arrest of Mrs. Abbott, who is charged with being one of the persons composing the destroying party.

The affair occurred at about 5 o'clock, and in a very few minutes the two saloons were scenes of wrecked mirrors, shattered plate glass windows and smashed glass bottles. Anything which seemed to come between the vengeance of the women was spared. Mrs. Nation carried a large hatchet to do her share of destruction. Mrs. Whitcomb carried a heavy stick. Mrs. Evans had a pair of iron and these were the principal implements used in the wrecking tour.

The occurrence caused a large crowd to congregate on the street and it has been years in Wichita since so much excitement among all classes of people has been seen.

During the evening a public excitement, which had been building up for some time, broke out into a riot. The rioters, who were mostly women, gathered in front of the saloons and began to throw stones and other missiles at the windows. The rioters were soon dispersed by the police, but the rioting continued in the saloons.

Just before the affair occurred Douglas avenue was a scene of business rush. The loaded drags and other vehicles were going either way. Police officers were patrolling along the street, and to the person who cared to observe there was every semblance of peace. Just a short time after the riot broke out, however, the scene was changed. A crowd of rioters gathered in front of the saloons and began to throw stones and other missiles at the windows. The rioters were soon dispersed by the police, but the rioting continued in the saloons.

A person standing at the Manhattan hotel just before 7 o'clock might have noticed a small party of women going east along Douglas. There would have been nothing peculiar about that, except that the leader carried a hatchet and others of the women had something in their hands. This did not occasion much curiosity among those on the street. When the riot broke out, however, the scene was changed. A crowd of rioters gathered in front of the saloons and began to throw stones and other missiles at the windows. The rioters were soon dispersed by the police, but the rioting continued in the saloons.

On the interior the work went on. Mrs. Nation shattered the large mirror behind the bar. Her associates were breaking bottles and using force. During all this time Mrs. Nation was speaking to the crowd on the outside of the saloon. While her voice was shrill and clear, no one could distinctly hear what she said, for the noise on the interior was terrific. After a short time it ceased and the two women came out. They were surrounded by the crowd, but headed by Mrs. Nation they started off east on Douglas. The crowd followed. The women marched on and when they came to Herrig & Taylor's where they found the door closed and locked. This seemed for the instant to be a difficulty. There was a moment of indecision. But Mrs. Nation and her followers were not to be baffled by any obstacle such as that. With one blow of her hatchet Mrs. Nation smashed the glass in the door. Mrs. Evans struck the other large glass in the right. Mrs. Nation repeated her blow and the glass was entirely out of the door. They were not in the building yet, nor was the door open. The fact that the glass was out offered a suggestion. Mrs. Nation started to climb over the woodwork on the left side of the door. Mrs. Evans immediately began to climb over on the right side of the door. There was a little fringe of glass sticking in the door and on entering Mrs. Evans cut her hand quite severely. This did not stop her. She entered the room with Mrs. Nation. The blows commenced and glasses and bottles began to fall. Mrs. Nation went to the right side of the room and, walking behind the bar counter, began the smashing of the wall case of liquors. There was nothing that, seemingly, she could not do. The entire stock of liquors was ruined, as was the show case. Mrs. Whitcomb smashed a large mirror on the left side of the room. Then the two women met in the rear of the room and both scattered blows on the diamond-shaped mirror in the rear of the first room. After this was finished, Mrs. Nation was looking for more world to conquer and immediately started for the bar room. Here she met an obstacle, for the door leading to the bar room was closed. John Herrig was behind that door and he was determined that Mrs. Nation should not enter the room. The door refused to open before Mrs. Nation and she promptly smashed out one of the panes with her hatchet. It was then that she noticed Mr. Herrig and she began to talk to him in a rapid fire of sentences. All of the time, however, she was trying to enter the room, but Mr. Herrig still held her back. Finally, the pressure was so great that Mr. Herrig yielded and she entered the room. It was then that she noticed Mr. Herrig and she began to talk to him in a rapid fire of sentences. PETITION IS FILED

Lease Divorce Matter in the District Court.

USUAL CHARGES STATED

Mr. Lease Will Not Contest
the Action.

The papers in which Mrs. Mary E. Lease petitions for a divorce from her husband, Charles Lease, were filed in the district court yesterday by Mr. I. P. Campbell, of the firm of Sankey & Campbell. The filing of the petition had been expected for some time, but owing to the fact that Mrs. Lease has been out of New York for some weeks, the papers were not signed by her until recently.

As was announced in the Eagle some time ago, the proceedings were to be begun as soon as possible. Then it was intimated that perhaps the matter had been settled. This was not denied by Mr. Lease, but he would say nothing further about the case.

The petition is not a very long one, but it contains the usual number of charges against the defendant. The stipulations in the petition are as follows:

"Comes now plaintiff and for cause of action against the defendant herein alleged: Plaintiff and defendant are wife and husband; were married at Oswego, Kansas, on the 30th day of January, 1873, and ever since said marriage have been, and are now, wife and husband."

"Second, plaintiff alleges that she is the mother of four children, born to her since her marriage with the defendant."

"Third, plaintiff is a resident of Sedgewick county, Kansas, and has been for one year next past."

"Fourth, plaintiff charges the defendant with being guilty of gross neglect of duty towards her in that he has neglected and abandoned her; that the defendant has failed and neglected for more than twelve years last past to support this plaintiff and her family, and to supply her and them with the ordinary and necessary comforts and conveniences of life such as the defendant as an able bodied man was competent and capable of supplying and maintaining; that this plaintiff has been compelled to live, by her own exertions and effort supported herself, and largely and almost entirely supported her family of four children almost wholly and continuously for more than twelve years last past, notwithstanding the fact that the defendant was able bodied and was capable of giving to this plaintiff proper and legitimate support."

"Wherefore plaintiff prays that she may be granted an absolute decree of divorce, forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between her and the defendant. That the defendant may be abjured from any and all interest in and to any real or personal property that she may now or at any time hereafter have or possess, and for such other relief as to the court may seem just and equitable."

Mr. Lease, it is said, will not fight the case at all. It is understood that he has consented to appear, but he comes the question whether or not Mrs. Lease can secure a divorce without making her appearance before the court. There is a diversity of opinion in the matter, and some of the attorneys in the city state that the question has never been decided in this court.

Mr. Campbell will present the matter to Judge Dale within the next few days for an opinion on the matter. If he should rule that it is necessary for Mrs. Lease to appear here it might delay the proceedings to some extent.

Mrs. Lease is well known in the city; in fact she has a national reputation. She has been in New York for some time and her son and daughter have positions there at the present time. Charles Lease, the husband, runs a drug business down near the Rock Island depot and has his circle of intimate friends. He rarely ever says anything about Mrs. Lease. Both parties in the case have many friends in the city. While the filing of the petition was not unexpected, yet the friends had hoped that the matter would be settled up. The case will probably not come up for some time, or it may descend entirely on the decision of Judge Dale regarding the appearance of Mrs. Lease.

TO PAVE WILLIAM STREET

Movement on Foot and Pedestrians Being Made.

There is a movement on foot to have William street paved from the government building to the Santa Fe tracks. A petition has been presented to the property owners and with few exceptions all have signed it. The property owners have the opinion that if the street is paved it will make it one of the widest and best streets of the city. In connection with that would be a number of other things put in for local traffic which do not necessarily need to be on a prominent street.

Whether the street will be paved or not is problematical, but as it is, any condition, according to the petition, there is a strong sentiment for it.

REPAIRS BEING MADE

Throckmorton Building to Have Fire Wall and Veranda.

The business property recently purchased by Mr. W. E. Throckmorton on North Main street is being repaired. IS AN INTERESTING WILL Document Probed Yesterday Was Signed Twenty-Five Years Ago.

An interesting will, dated Medina county, Ohio, 1874, was admitted to probate by Judge Wilson yesterday. The testator died in the Buckeye county in 1897 and left his widow considerable property included in this state. It appears that an effort has been made to dispose of the property, but because of the fact that the will had not been probated in the local court, a clear title to the property could not be obtained. The action yesterday sets the action right.

Our Stock-Reducing Sale

1/5 OFF

Has and is fulfilling its mission, reducing stock, and doing it at a lively rate. The demands of the buying public instead of decreasing towards the end of the sale, are increasing. Those who haven't read about it and those who have read about it and were incredulous have been told of the reality of these wonderful bargains by their friends and neighbors, who in turn have told their friends and neighbors, thus keeping the masses moving through our store. This cold type and expressionless paper can't half tell the tale of great values. A visit convinces the most skeptical and doubting mind that our regular prices, marked in plain figures on stock label, are as low and in many cases even lower than others' special cut prices, and when you take one-fifth off that price you secure values that can't be duplicated anywhere. Come early and secure choice selection. Do the marking down yourself. We have no string-tag price-tickets, no schemes or tricks, no special day or hour, no limit.
